

As the door opened a gust of smoke came pouring out of the windows! He didn't know where to look! The door shut! Out of the chimney came a rather small mouse! The hill slowly rose into a mountain so high it looked like it lead to heaven! Timathon grabbed the mouse put it in in his backpack ~~and left for school!~~ He left for school!

As school started Timathon gently placed the mouse in his under desk. They now said, "Why do you live in a hill/house?" The mouse leaphed, "Because I can change into any shape and so I don't like people finding out about my secret! Promise you won't tell?" "Pssse," he answered.

Lunch began ~~and~~ but Tim got detention because the mouse got free. Anyway the mouse told him that he can turn any thing into any thing. Tim was extremely ungrateful.

And so the mouse decided to change and Shaped his commands to the opposit

The didn't find out until he wanted to be a pirate!
